

Tidal Cyber and ESET

Get the most from your organization's security stack

Examine ESET's extended detection and response (XDR) capabilities with Tidal Cyber's platform, which focuses on mapping threats to MITRE ATT&CK. Check the benefits of the ESET PROTECT Platform and how it can protect your organization before committing to a solution.

Integrate ESET and Tidal Cyber to help with three key challenges

- Lack of visibility
- Proof of concept or demo requirements
- Protracted decision-making processes

KEY BENEFITS

- ✓ Check if you're using ESET's capabilities to the fullest
- ✓ Get enhanced visibility into what ESET can deliver for Tidal Cyber customers
- ✓ Granular capabilities, with detailed annotations that include in-depth descriptions and recommended actions

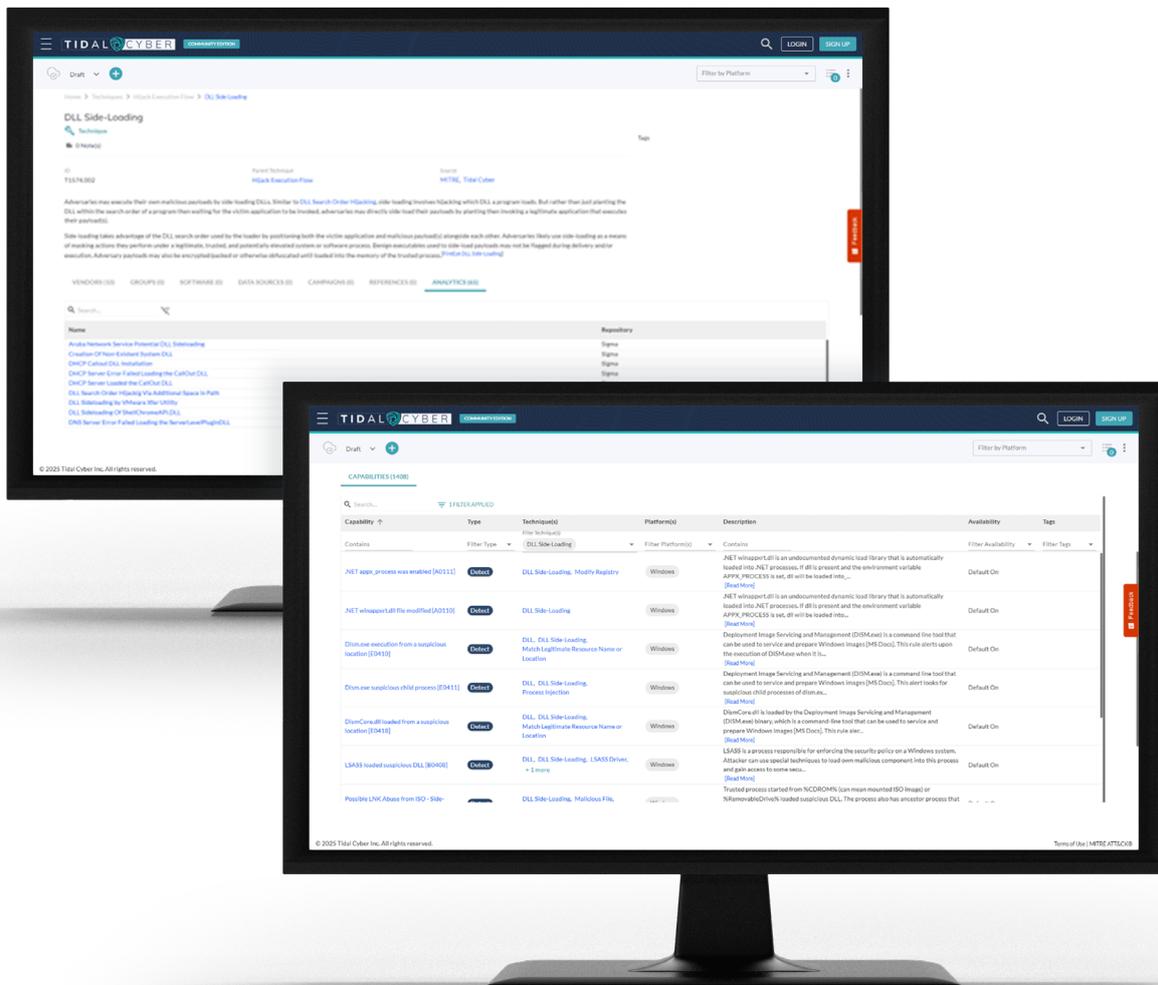

KEY FEATURES

- ✓ Tidal Cyber's mapping enables potential customers to see how ESET PROTECT aligns with real-world threat techniques—before deploying it
- ✓ The integration provides a clear, visual representation of ESET's detection and response capabilities across the MITRE ATT&CK® framework
- ✓ By showcasing ESET's mapped capabilities in a threat-informed context, Tidal Cyber empowers security teams to make data-driven decisions when selecting a security platform

HOW IT WORKS

ESET's XDR provides very granular capabilities with a vast array of actionable telemetry. These capabilities—ESET Inspect rules—are forwarded to the Tidal Cyber platform. The platform user can then search ESET for overall coverage of attack vectors and techniques, and drill down and search for specifics. They can check beforehand whether ESET can deliver what they expect and compare the results to those of the competition.

Tidal Cyber platform users can also build their own virtual stack with ESET in it to fine-tune it to their specific needs.

About ESET
