THE CUSTOMER

Capital City Club is a premier private club serving members across three locations. With a reputation for exceptional hospitality, dining, and networking experiences, the club requires a strong and reliable IT foundation to support daily operations, safeguard sensitive member information, and ensure seamless technology performance across its facilities.

THE CHALLENGE

Managing IT security across three distinct locations posed a significant challenge. Their previous security solution lacked a central management server, making it difficult to oversee endpoints, enforce policies, and maintain visibility across all devices. Without a unified management console, IT operations were inefficient and prone to oversight, leaving the organization vulnerable to disruptions and security gaps.

KEY BENEFITS

- Centralized management to oversee 200 endpoints across three locations.
- Simplified deployment with easy rollout of security clients and updates.
- Real-time visibility helps stay ahead of potential issues.
- Efficient policy enforcement across all endpoints.

THE SOLUTION

Capital City Club evaluated several options but ultimately chose ESET PROTECT Entry to secure over 200 devices. With a reputation as a trusted leader in cybersecurity, ESET's strong presence in the marketplace and ability to provide centralized endpoint protection made it the logical choice for the club's IT needs.

"ESET checked every box we were looking for - reliable, efficient, and affordable."

With ESET PROTECT Entry, Capital City Club gained centralized management through a single console that oversees endpoints across its three locations. The IT team also benefited from real-time visibility, receiving notifications and alerts that help them stay ahead of potential issues. In addition, ESET enables efficient policy enforcement, allowing the club to apply consistent security policies across all endpoints.

"Using ESET makes my daily routine easier. With the central console and notification policies, I know right away when there's an issue. The solution gives me confidence that our IT environment is protected and manageable across all of our locations."

By switching to ESET, Capital City Club transformed its IT security operations. The centralized management console streamlines daily routines, while automated notifications allow IT staff to proactively address issues before they escalate. Compared to the previous solution, ESET provides a more robust, efficient, and user-friendly approach to endpoint protection.
