THE CUSTOMER

Life Action is a nonprofit organization dedicated to inspiring spiritual renewal across the United States. The organization relies on technology to connect, serve, and expand its faith-based outreach. Protecting these digital operations is crucial to ensuring the mission continues uninterrupted.

THE CHALLENGE

As a nonprofit, protecting staff and volunteers from potential online threats was a priority. Life Action sought a reliable and endpoint security solution to ensure uninterrupted operations and secure connections for its ministry work.

KEY BENEFITS

- Robust protection against online threats to secure staff and volunteers.
- Ease of use with a familiar interface and straightforward management.
- Cross-platform coverage, including Windows and Mac devices.

THE SOLUTION

Life Action selected ESET PROTECT Entry based on the company's proven track record.
The IT team trusted the product's reputation for reliability and recognized its value in providing comprehensive protection without adding unnecessary complexity.

"We chose ESET because we were already familiar with the product and knew it would deliver the protection we needed without complications."

ESET PROTECT Entry delivers modern, multilayered endpoint protection powered by advanced machine learning, all within an intuitive management console. Designed for low maintenance, it's an ideal solution for organizations that prioritize ease of use and straightforward implementation.

"Overall, ESET works well for us. It protects our team from online threats and gives us confidence in our IT security. The product has been reliable, and even when we run into occasional Mac client issues, ESET support and updates resolve them quickly."

Since adopting ESET PROTECT Entry, Life Action has strengthened its defenses against cyber risks. The solution provides peace of mind that endpoints are protected, even if occasional Mac updates require client updates to restore connectivity. Overall, the IT team is confident in ESET's ability to keep operations running smoothly and securely.
