ESET PROTECT Entry

THE CUSTOMER

Founded in 1978, Buckhead Life Restaurant Group has grown from a single restaurant into a celebrated culinary brand with six restaurants in Atlanta, Georgia, and three in South Florida. Offering a variety of cuisine—from French and Greek to American seafood, steakhouses, and Italian—the group is known for its commitment to exceptional service and dining experiences. Behind the scenes, the organization also requires strong IT security to protect its operations and customer data across multiple locations.

THE CHALLENGE

As the restaurant group expanded, so did its exposure to cybersecurity risks—particularly at the endpoint level, where users encountered threats via internet browsing and email-based attacks. Their previous solution wasn’t keeping pace with the evolving threat landscape, and managing security across multiple restaurant locations became increasingly complex.

KEY BENEFITS

- Strong endpoint protection enhanced defenses against email and web-based threats
- Easy-to-use centralized management console
- Smooth deployment
- Long-term value with a decade of reliable protection and continued satisfaction

THE SOLUTION

The team selected ESET PROTECT entry for its ease of deployment and centralized management. ESET’s lightweight platform allowed the IT team to quickly roll out protection across all restaurant locations and monitor threats from a single console.

“ESET’s deployment was straightforward, and its centralized dashboard lets us stay on top of our security posture without micromanaging it.”

Buckhead Life found that ESET provided a more secure and streamlined platform, offering better performance and enhanced threat detection than the previous solution

For over ten years, Buckhead Life Restaurant Group has trusted ESET to protect its growing business. With intuitive management tools, strong endpoint protection, and dependable support, ESET has helped the organization maintain a secure IT environment—ensuring their focus stays on delivering world-class dining experiences.

“ESET just works. It’s reliable, effective, and allows us to stay secure without adding unnecessary complexity to our IT environment.”
